SHAKALAKA-BAM!

A No Straight Roads Fanzine

No Straight Roads is a lot of things to a lot of people.

It's an achievement for Metronomik and everyone who had a hand in making the game what it is. It's a reminder of home, whether it's from the reflection of ourselves we see in the game or the friends we made along the way. Most importantly, No Straight Roads is what brought us together to create. The game's message of growth alongside others resonates deeply with all of us, and has encouraged us to create works of art, improve our craft, and collaborate with other artists to make something great. The game has sparked an insane amount of fan works - from hundreds of fan characters and fanfiction to remixes of boss themes - all made by extremely passionate and talented individuals.

This zine is our celebration for everything No Straight Roads has been for us: representation, community, inspiration, and home. It is thanks to everyone who put in the work to make something meaningful, something that matters to us.

To borrow Tatiana's choice of words, "Never have we seen lights shine so brightly, and it's thanks to not just NSR alone, but to the performers, the fans, and everyone who resides in this magnificent city."
